N. P. STOCK EARNS $6 FOR THIS YEAR

DONNELLY EXPECTS 1925 TO YIELD EVEN A BIGGER REVENUE

St. Paul, Nov. 25.—Northern Pacific earnings this year will be about $6 a share, an increase from $5.22 in 1923.

This is the belief of Charles Donnelly, president, who has returned from New York where he attended a meeting of the directors and of the Railway Executives association.

Mr. Donnelly was more optimistic about 1925.
"We should have little difficulty in earning $6 a share on our stock this year," he said. "From the existing outlook I firmly believe that next year will be much better."

"We are planning on an increased business in the lumber industry which fell off slightly this year. The middle west and the northwest will demand lumber and it will mean a stimulus to the lumber industry of the Pacific northwest."

Mr. Donnelly announced that the Northern Pacific has been authorized by the Interstate Commerce commission to construct a 15-mile branch line on the Elma branch in Mason county, Washington, in the vicinity of Shelton. This will include eight miles of logging road now owned by the Stimson Logging Co., which the Northern Pacific proposes to purchase and relay with heavier rails.

Mr. Donnelly said that the Northern Pacific is in splendid physical shape despite the large grain movement this fall. He indicated that the net operating income for October is expected to reach $2,800,000, the largest of any month since October, 1921.—St. Paul Daily News.

FAHY, "CRACK" POSTAL INSPECTOR AND MURRAY, IN THE TOILS

MAXIMUM SENTENCE POSSIBLE UNDER THESE COUNTS IS 162 YEARS

(By United Press)
Chicago, Nov. 25.—Sentence will be passed Saturday on Wm. J. Fahy, "crack" postal inspector, and James Murray, a Chicago politician, both convicted of complicity in the $3,000,000 mail robbery at Rondout, Ill., last June, Federal Judge Adam C. Cliffe announced today.
Fahy and Murray were found guilty by the jury, the verdict being returned early this morning. Walter McComb, a third defendant, was acquitted.

Guilt of Fahy and Murray was established on five counts of robbing the mails, five counts of robbing the mails with a gun, and one count of conspiracy to rob the mails. The maximum sentence possible under these counts is 162 years.

Six other members of the robber band that held up the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul train confessed. They are Brent Glasscock, Herbert Holliday and the four Newton brothers of Oklahoma and Texas—Jesse, Joseph, Willis and Wylie.

Glasscock, alleged leader of the band, was a government witness at the trial of Fahy and Murray. He told of plotting the holdup and of how Fahy "tipped us off to mail deliveries."

Presentation of evidence was completed yesterday afternoon and an evening session of court was held for hearing of closing arguments.

The jury took the case at 8:30 and at 1:15 a. m. this morning announced its verdict.

Following a conference with President Coolidge, Lord announced the budget for the next fiscal year had been completed. Lord said the cost of the soldiers' bonus has proved lower than was expected. Then, as smoothly as a bird, the great airship rose into the heavens and was headed toward Philadelphia on the way to Washington, where the ZR-3 will be christened Los Angeles by Mrs. Coolidge this afternoon.

The ground crew of the air field at Lakehurst cheered lustily as we floated upward, their voices faint above the roar of the motors as officers gave orders for maneuvering the ship into the bright sky.

AUTHORITIES DROP THE SUICIDE THEORY ADVANCED

DRAW WEB OF EVIDENCE ABOUT AN UNNAMED CULPRIT

EVERY AGENCY OF LAW INVOKED TO ESTABLISH HIS IDENTITY

(By United Press)
Columbus, O., Nov. 25.—Authorities drew a web of evidence about an unnamed culprit in the Sheatsley furnace mystery today and directed that every agency of the law be bent toward establishing his identity.

John R. King, county prosecutor, declared an end to "further theorizing in the case," and that "our most important duty now is to find out who was criminally involved."

The prosecutor left for Lithopolis early in the day to question a woman who was said to have taken lunch with Rev. C. V. Sheatsley and his family a few hours before the pastor's wife was found smoldering in the personage furnace.

Before leaving King made it plain that he does not suspect the Sheatsley luncheon guest but expects to get from her "some information vital to the investigation at this time."

Until today she was unknown to investigators, and King said that members of the Sheatsley family had not told him of the woman being at their home.

There is a possibility, it was learned today, that the remains of Mrs. Sheatsley, which were buried last Thursday at Paris, O., may be exhumed to settle a question as to whether any bones of the head were recovered from the furnace.

The assistant undertaker who removed the remains from the furnace told the prosecutor that he was practically certain the body had not been decapitated.

King, however, eager for information as to the condition of the skull, may order the remains exhumed.

Investigation of the furnace mystery was turned into a concerted search for Mrs. Sheatsley's slayer by evidence disclosed late yesterday and last night when the prosecutor and detectives combed the Lutheran parsonage in Bexley, where the pastor's wife's body was found.

PASTOR EXPLAINS WHO WOMAN IS

Canton, O., Nov. 25.—The woman authorities expect to interview in Lithopolis, O., is Mrs. L. Redefels, wife of a Lithopolis minister, Rev. C. V. Sheatsley, husband of Mrs. Addie Sheatsley, Columbus furnace victim, said today.

"I hope they see her," the pastor said.

"They will learn that she came to the parsonage about 10 o'clock and stayed only about 10 minutes."

"She delivered some Christmas cards which Mrs. Sheatsley had ordered from her."

NEW CLUE LEADS TO MAN IN CASE

Columbus, O., Nov. 25.—Believing they have uncovered a "hot lead" in the Sheatsley furnace mystery, police this afternoon began search for a man who left a coat spotted with what may be human blood and slightly scorched in front at a north side dry cleaning shop a week ago last Monday.

FIRST SOUGHT RELEASE FROM GREEN BAY STATE REFORMATORY

SUPERIOR MAN CONVICTED OF ALLEGED INSURANCE TANGLE

(By United Press) Superior, Wis., Nov. 25.—Edward J. Sallstad, who disappeared from Eau Claire with Miss Dorothy Anderson, his "sunshine girl" stenographer, has withdrawn his plea for parole from the Green Bay state reformatory.

Sallstad and Miss Anderson were found in California after three years' absence. They were brought back and both were sentenced last year.

Previously to their disappearance Sallstad exhumed a body from a graveyard then burned it in his cabin on Lake Nebagamon. When the burned bones were found they were thought to be Sallstad's but insurance companies refused to pay huge benefits to his wife, Leona Sallstad. Later she married L. J. Richardson. Sallstad and Miss Anderson avowed lasting love for each other and declared they would wed when released.

SEIZURE OF STOCKS ORDERED

SOME $48,000 WORTH SAID TO BELONG TO LEO KORETZ, ALLEGED SWINDLER

(By United Press) Chicago, Nov. 25.—Seizure of $48,000 worth of stocks and bonds belonging to Leo Koretz, "imaginative" alleged swindler, said to be in a New York bank, was ordered today by Referee in Bankruptcy Harry A. Parkin. The name of the bank was not revealed in the ancillary order directing United States marshals to make the seizure.

Seizure of the "book shop" at 922 Madison Street, New York, which Koretz had admitted operating under the name of Lewis Keyte, was also ordered.

Parkin was appointed referee in bankruptcy in the Koretz case nearly a year ago when scores of petitions were filed in federal court to have him declared involuntarily bankrupt.

SAMUEL GOMPERS AGAIN HEADS FEDERATION OF LABOR

(By United Press) El Paso, Tex., Nov. 25.—Cheering and applauding wildly, delegates to the convention of the American Federation of Labor today unanimously re-elected Samuel Gompers, 74 years old, labor leader to head the American labor movement for another year. His entire executive council was also returned to office.

Aztecs Grew Corn

The only related plant with which corn will cross fertilize is teosinte, a large, semi-tropical grass growing wild in the uplands of Central America and adjoining regions, says Nature Magazine. It is in this country of the ancient Mayas, Aztecs and Incas that the most abundant evidence has been found of the early cultivation of this plant.

AUTHORITIES DROP THE SUICIDE THEORY ADVANCED

DRAW WEB OF EVIDENCE ABOUT AN UNNAMED CULPRIT

EVERY AGENCY OF LAW INVOKED TO ESTABLISH HIS IDENTITY

(By United Press) Columbus, O., Nov. 25.—Authorities drew a web of evidence about an unnamed culprit in the Sheatsley furnace mystery today and directed that every agency of the law be bent toward establishing his identity.

John R. King, county prosecutor, declared an end to "further theorizing in the case," and that "our most important duty now is to find out who was criminally involved."

The prosecutor left for Lithopolis early in the day to question a woman who was said to have taken lunch with Rev. C. V. Sheatsley and his family a few hours before the pastor's wife was found smoldering in the personage furnace.

Before leaving King made it plain that he does not suspect the Sheatsley luncheon guest but expects to get from her "some information vital to the investigation at this time."

Until today she was unknown to investigators, and King said that members of the Sheatsley family had not told him of the woman being at their home.

There is a possibility, it was learned today, that the remains of Mrs. Sheatsley, which were buried last Thursday at Paris, O., may be exhumed to settle a question as to whether any bones of the head were recovered from the furnace.

The assistant undertaker who removed the remains from the furnace told the prosecutor that he was practically certain the body had not been decapitated. King, however, eager for information as to the condition of the skull, may order the remains exhumed.

Investigation of the furnace mystery was turned into a concerted search for Mrs. Sheatsley's slayer by evidence disclosed late yesterday and last night when the prosecutor and detectives combed the Lutheran parsonage in Bexley, where the pastor's wife's body was found.

PASTOR EXPLAINS WHO WOMAN IS

Canton, O., Nov. 25.—The woman authorities expect to interview in Lithopolis, O., is Mrs. L. Redefels, wife of a Lithopolis minister, Rev. C. V. Sheatsley, husband of Mrs. Addie Sheatsley, Columbus furnace victim, said today.

"I hope they see her," the pastor said.

"They will learn that she came to the parsonage about 10 o'clock and stayed only about 10 minutes."

"She delivered some Christmas cards which Mrs. Sheatsley had ordered from her."

NEW CLUE LEADS TO MAN IN CASE

Columbus, O., Nov. 25.—Believing they have uncovered a "hot lead" in the Sheatsley furnace mystery, police this afternoon began search for a man who left a coat spotted with what may be human blood and slightly scorched in front at a north side dry cleaning shop a week ago last Monday.

GOLDEN RULE SUNDAY

SUNDAY, December 7, 1924, has been designated as Golden Rule Sunday, by representatives of twenty nations who met recently at Geneva to determine the best manner of alleviating the distress of tens of thousands of sufferers in the Near East who were victims of the late World War.

In his proclamation, Governor J. A. O. Preus calls attention to the fact that President Coolidge has officially endorsed this movement and urged the people of the United States to participate, saying: "I believe that the international observance of this day may not only save the lives of thousands of destitute, but may possibly have an even greater benefit in the way of reflex influence upon those who observe the Golden Rule and help to establish it as a reality in daily living. The international observance of this day might well contribute materially to the betterment of international relations and abiding world peace."

Governor Preus continues further with his proclamation, stating that the orphans and other sufferers in the Near East, are, in a sense, international wards, but our own country is enjoying greater material prosperity than any other nation, and should be able to do more than its pro rata share. I sincerely hope that Golden Rule Sunday will be generally observed throughout Minnesota and that the people of this state, who are always generous, will be especially liberal in this most worthy cause.

This is not a "campaign" or a "drive," in the sense that those words generally signify, says the Governor, but is an effort unanimously endorsed by the outstanding leaders of twenty nations, without regard to religious, sectarian or racial contacts.

It is the hope that on this day millions of citizens in all the participating nations will be seated, figuratively, at the same table, partaking of the same food, thinking the same thoughts, thus entering into a new realization of the brotherhood of mankind, with the single idea of emphasizing the benefit accruing to mankind by the unanimous adoption of the Golden Rule principle in all of our relations, not alone individually but nationally and internationally.

As Chairman of Minnesota's Golden Rule Day State Committee, the Governor has appointed a large number of cooperating members.

CHRISTMAS SEALS IN MINNESOTA

WHEN people are asked to buy Christmas seals, they have a right to know what is to be done with the money. The record of the past is an indication of how the money is to be spent, and it is certainly used for most meritorious things.

For instance, the Christmas seals in Minnesota last season provided tuberculosis clinics throughout the state. They helped finance the teaching of health habits to school children by means of the Health Crusade.

They provided children's clinics in counties desiring them. They helped supply public health nurses throughout the state.

They supported public education in the relentless drive against tuberculosis by the distribution of pamphlets, books, and newspaper articles, together with health talks by qualified authorities throughout the state. They gave free literature upon every phase of public health.

They helped finance the Northwestern Health Journal. The subscription list now numbers over 10,000; this means a monthly health message distributed among teachers, doctors and to homes.

They maintained three health exhibits and one health game for use in health educational campaigns at fairs, meetings, etc. They supplied the counties with health moving pictures. They helped reduce the death rate from tuberculosis, in Minnesota almost one-half since 1911.

In Minnesota for the year 1923 alone the rate was 74.2 with the total deaths from tuberculosis, all forms, 1855. Should the increase in the number of deaths during the first fifteen years, 1900-1915, have continued unchecked, there would have been 2840 deaths from tuberculosis in 1923 instead of 1855, which is 985 less. This number if figured at $5,000 valuation each to the state represented a saving of $4,925,000 in 1923 alone.

LET US GIVE THANKS

LET us give thanks that we live in a country like America, that we are among the best nourished, best housed, best clothed, best educated, best blessed people on the face of the earth in all history, as a result of the greatest share ever given workers in the fruits of productivity.

For our leadership toward the goal for the abolishment of war, and as an indication of which and pledge of which a perfectly new $16,000,000 battleship has just been laid as an offering on the altar of peace. So well made was the ship that it took depth bombs and a rain of shells from aloft and from ships near by to sink her.

For the steady strengthening of our relations with Latin America as well as Europe, and throughout the world in general.

For four years of probably uninterrupted commercial and trade expansion, bringing great prosperity within its wake.

For generous crops and rising prices enabling the farmers to round the corner.

For efforts made to put and continue to keep industry and agriculture on enduring foundations and to solve difficulties which have handicapped all the people.

For the growth of religious tolerance and the efforts tending to elimination of sectional prejudices.

For the acceptance of women as political equals.

For health and strength, and the grateful spirit which ever cherishes this government of the people, by the people and for the people.

MRS. CHARLES H. HEATH of 506 South Fifth street has a sea onion in captivity which has leaves 48 inches long. If that sea onion can do so well, located in Brainerd, midway between Atlantic and Pacific oceans, the question is what would it do in its native element. Douglas Armstrong, who now lives on the Pacific coast, marvelled when he saw how Mrs. Heath's lemon tree and sea onion thrived far from their native clime.

BULL FIGHTING

(By United Press)
Belgrade, Nov. 25.—The attempt to acclimatise Spanish bull-fighting in Budapest has ended in failure. The number of spectators was not large enough and one of the toradors was severely wounded. In addition, the 125 million crowns taken at the box office was seized by the tax authorities in payment of the tax due to the government.

Wave Length

At least two Brainerd radio enthusiasts believe that they heard European stations on Monday evening.

E. W. Paine, 512 North Broadway, says that he believes that he picked up station 5PY, Lyons, France. The concert that was being broadcast could not be received in its entirety, but came in plain enough at times so that it could be heard with the loud speaker.

O. F. Erickson, 1717 Laurel street, was the first to hear the French station and called Mr. Paine, telling him how to locate it. Mr. Erickson states that broadcasting stations in the United States signed off at ten o'clock Monday evening after announcing the wave lengths that would be used by the European stations, and it was by the aid of these announcements that Mr. Erickson was able to pick up 5PY. He says that he heard parts of a piano solo and also grand opera.

Stars Vie for Flapper Honors
What screen actress is your idea of the perfect flapper?

Bessie Love and Colleen Moore are the two leading contestants in the race for this title up to date. Ever since the release of "Flaming Youth," Colleen has held sway among the "fans" as the ideal flapper, but since the filming of "Those Who Dance," Thomas H. Ince's new drama, showing at the New Park tonight and Wednesday, Bessie Love has been vying with her for the honor.

Miss Love has been a favorite for a long time and has put over countless telling dramatic characterizations such as that of the little dope mother in "Human Wreckage." In "Those Who Dance," however, she comes to the silver screen in a brand new guise, for Ince has given her a chance to display her charms as a flapper and an underworld flapper at that.

Elinor Glyn Deals With Real Studio Life at Hollywood

Something absolutely new in screen plot and characterization is offered in Elinor Glyn's "The World's a Stage," which is showing at the Lyceum theatre tonight and Wednesday. Trust the celebrated authoress to discover real novelty. The screen has long needed a story which got away from the beaten path. "The World's a Stage" will surprise you with its out-of-the-ordinary plot. It is a vital, throbbing tale soaring to unexpected climaxes startling in its denouement, and will be talked about as the flur sensation of the year.

Mrs. Glyn has painted accurately and vividly the inside life of a screen actress in Hollywood. All of the incidents of the story are founded upon real life. Mrs. Glyn has been a resident of Hollywood for some time and her impressions of life are honestly recorded here.

Real Cowpunchers in Cast of "The Border Legion"

Honest-to-goodness, dyed-in-the-wool cowboys, recruited from all over the west, take part in the Paramount production of Zane Grey's "The Border Legion."

Fred Burns, the "cowboy poet" and the punchers' official chief, was born near Miles City, Mont., and "rode herd" in that country and Wyoming. Later he was a trick rider and roper with the Buffalo Bill show.

Mat Hosea, who drove the old stage coach out of Tonapah years ago, is another of the cast. Hosea drives a six-horse stage for scenes in "The Border Legion," which will be shown at the New Park on Thursday and Friday.

WOODROW ITEMS

Miss Barbara Friedsam and Mrs. Dan Peterson called on Mrs. A. H. Aspholm Tuesday afternoon.

A. H. Aspholm and J. P. Dullum returned Sunday night from a successful hunting trip to Deer River and vicinity.

Verne Hislop and Charles Petrie are leaving this week for Little Fork, where they have taken a logging contract.

The sheriff and his assistants have been very busy performing their official duties this fall. More power to them.

John Shefflen, our timber baron, made a business trip to Brainerd and Ironton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Norgord called at the Dan Peterson home Tuesday.

Mrs. J. A. Thabes visited the school in District No. 5 on Wednesday, in the interest of the Red Cross. The Brainerd chapter is endeavoring to raise funds to retain our county school nurse for another year. People are urged to give what they can toward this fund.

The nurse is unquestionably a necessity if our boys and girls are to have the health and strength they require to enable them to carry on their school work.

Mrs. Thabes is very deserving of thanks for her untiring efforts in this cause. Let us give her all the aid that we can.

The New Studebaker STANDARD SIX SEDAN $1595

One of the 15 new Studebakers, ranging in price from $1125 to $2860 (All prices f.o.b. factory)

Know what's underneath the paint before you buy

YOU wouldn't think of buying a house without first knowing how it is built and the quality of materials used. In selecting a piece of furniture you are sure to find out whether it is solid wood or veneer.

Yet many people who exercise care in most purchases buy automobiles without even lifting the hood or knowing about the hidden qualities of body and chassis construction that really determine one's satisfaction with a closed car.

We want you to know about the unseen qualities of the new Studebaker Standard Six Sedan.

Down underneath its superb body finish is a sturdy framework of carefully selected ash, glued together and fastened in place by screws—not nailed. Ash is scarce and expensive, but Studebaker uses it because it best combines proper weight and strength.

Upholstery is genuine mohair of high quality. Various grades of mohair look much alike—the big difference is in the quality.

Beneath this mohair covering are many nests of cushion springs, padded with heavy burlap, upholstery cotton and curled hair. Almost any car seems comfortable on the showroom floor, but it's quality such as this that makes the Studebaker Standard Six remain comfortable after years of service.

The same standards of excellence are maintained throughout the body and chassis. In the engine, for example, the crankshaft is completely machined on all surfaces, a practice that results in the smooth, quiet, vibrationless performance that characterizes all Studebaker cars.

Judged solely on what your eye can see—in beauty of line and finish and exterior refinements—the Studebaker Standard Six Sedan will command your instant approval.

But go deeper than that. Compare its hidden, vital qualities—its design, materials and workmanship—with cars selling for hundreds of dollars more.

Studebaker never compromises—never uses a substitute for genuine quality. Studebaker has been building quality vehicles for 72 years.

Come in and let us tell you the "inside story" of the Studebaker Standard Six Sedan.

BIOLOGY—5TH PERIOD

How many classes have a class comedian? We have and she's a peacherino!

Some say that days of human sacrifice are past, but they are not. Our star, Elinore Sias, gladly sacrificed one wee drop of blood to be viewed under a microscope by the rest of the class.

Elinore gave a very good demonstration of a cross section between a Virginia Reel and the shimmy while returning a dollar, which she had borrowed to make a circle, to Fred Branting.

Miss Spink: "What are the pulmonary veins?"
William L.: "Well—er—ah, it's an artery."

SPEECHES AT HIGH SCHOOL

The past week has been set apart as Educational week throughout the United States. The High School has observed Education week by speakers who stressed the value of education.

Rev. August Samuelson spoke to us on Wednesday morning. He reminded us of the familiar motto, "you can live without a Ford, but not so well." The same is true of education. Aristotle, the Greek philosopher, declared that there is as much difference between an educated and an uneducated person as between a live man and a dead man.

Students are like the huge, ugly, unwieldy blocks of granite in a stone quarry which are waiting for a skillful workman to bring out the hidden worth and beauty. Education takes the place of the workman. Education is not cramming; it is the means of bringing out the qualities that lie within us. Education is needed more than ever before. There is no royal road to Geometry. The rich and poor travel the same path. When the soul life is forgotten, we are failures. Build not only for material success but for a greater life goal. Live up to your best gifts.

Rev. Patterson addressed the student body on Thursday morning. He advised us not to crowd all our pleasure into our schooldays, to be loyal to our school, and to get acquainted with some older person of good character who could guide us from experience.

A man is more than body and mind; he has a soul. When the mind can't grasp all it ought to, we call it illiteracy, but the soul illiteracy is still worse. The body is always taken care of because if we went too long without eating we'd starve; the soul should have the same consideration as the body. We must look out for the soul life; remember that we have a living soul which will never perish. Rev. Patterson pleaded for the soul and soul culture, saying that it is dangerous to be one-sided—to have a brilliant mind but to be without morals.

In closing, Rev. Patterson stated that we should strive toward education, and make use of our gifts for the aid and betterment of mankind.

Ecoutez! Audacious Frosh

(This—a dyadactic satire on that class whose unheard of boldness has aroused the ire of the "Its.")

After a thorough investigation as to the source of the extremely brilliant, informal essay penned by an adroit Freshman, the worldly-wise Seniors according to time-honored custom give credit where credit is due.

The chairman of our research bureau gave the following report on the investigation:

Amongst the vast multitude of Frosh that inhabit the side nearest the rising sun in the assembly, there was but one outstanding character, the president, whose countenance bore such an ingratiating smile that it endeared him to the soft and gentle hearts of the members of the committee. Possessing a rather bashful nature and being unable to comprehend the interrogations put to him or interpret them in the right manner, the committee turned their energies to seek another field which would perhaps yield them more fruit.

Looking over the sea of heads that one possessed by Jimmy Tinklepaugh, a Freshman in his second year, gave us some hope of encouragement. Following up our new line of attack (drawn on by his tantalizing grin) we gathered the surprising information that we had been Freshmen once upon a time and that there being nothing new under the sun, a Freshman then, would correspond to a freshman now. (Get it straight.)

After digesting his pearly words of wisdom and after a final general survey of the awe-stricken Frosh we drew the following conclusions—

But wait, dear reader, we will not bore you with the time worn truths, 'twould only make the Freshmen sad. Of course, the research committee couldn't help but come to the same consensus of opinion that countless generations before have had — you know the facts as well as we. We graciously grant the Freshies the privilege to have their little fling. But beware! Let them remain in bounds. Thus—let the matter rest.

LAST ROSE OF SUMMER

Or A Change of Weather Occurs in The City of Brainerd

Just as the inhabitants of Brainerd were resting their eyes from seeing scribbles on the sidewalks, blocked traffic, and streaks of colored lightning fly past, just when shrieks of "Here is the arrow!" and "We've lost the trail!" had ceased to reverberate in their ears, unpleasant memories were brought back at the sight of a lengthy column of live creatures winding its way down Oak street. Why the change? Why the recurrence of former happenings? "Old Man Winter" stopped bombarding us with snow from his pet aeroplane, "The North Wind," long enough to permit Miss Jorandy's gym classes to have one or two more hikes.

Who, What and Where

Save those snap-shots and other pictures concerning the high school and the students or faculty for the 1925 annual. We need them.

Reserve either the 19th or the 20th or the 21st day of the new year for the Juniors. Why? Wait until further announcements. This column deals with only Who, What & Where stuff. Mr. Why will have to write a special article if he wants to make any announcements in this paper.

Due to the many funny and also serious happenings around school lately, the need of a special feature editor became apparent and upon Miss Tornstrom's suggestion Irma Brackner was added to the Brainonian staff.

Another six weeks have come and gone and again the fatal report cards have made their appearance. We hate to spoil your Thanksgiving vacation, but it might be well to be remembered that the end of the next six weeks will be the end of the first semester also. Watch your step and above all, discard that chewing gum!

What was that about a Thanksgiving vacation? Oh, yes, there ain't a goin' to be no school anymore from Wednesday afternoon until Monday morning following the eventful turkey. Let's enjoy the vacation and then come back with renewed vigor and enthusiasm for studying.

Too much valuable material for enacting a good play is going to waste among the student-body. Watch the next issues for announcements in re the coming Brainonian benefit play, featuring an all-star cast of amateur but would-be professional players.

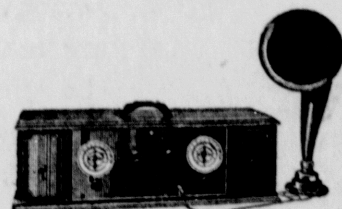

Juel P.: "Bunyon enlisted in the army at 20 years of age."

Alfreda Z.: "He did not. He was married then."

Kent W.: "Well, that's the same thing."

Miss Spink (in physiology): "Where are the nerves located?"
Bright Student: "From the brain to the toes."

THE SEASON'S GREETINGS to the Faculty and our Fellow-Students

THE BRAINONIAN STAFF

If a few of the Sophomores and Juniors ever missed a good time in their lives, they missed one last Friday when they did not come to the Sophomore-Junior party.

The party was a success from beginning to end. As they entered the "gym" they were given a small piece of ribbon the color of which decided which city they were to represent during the evening. The four leading cities of Minnesota, Brainerd, St. Cloud, Crosby and Little Falls, took part in the Olympic games of nineteen twenty-four. The yell leader for Brainerd was John Fisher, for St. Cloud was Edna Turner, for Little Falls was Gladys Holvick, and for Crosby was Martin Seeger. These four took those wearing the blue, green, red and yellow, respectively, to their own corner of the "gym."

Then came the races. Contestants were put up by each city for the ten or twelve races and while these were bringing glory to their city the others gave original yells until they were so hoarse they could hardly talk. Finally it was decided by the judges that St. Cloud had won.

When the bell rang, everyone knew what it was for, and it was not long before they were all in the sewing room eating sandwiches, pickles and pie a la mode. When this was finished, "Goodbyes" were said and wearily but happily they plodded home under the stars.

Brainonian Staff Appreciates Invitation

The Brainonian staff most joyously accepted the invitation to attend the Junior and Sophomore party. Especially are they grateful to the Sophs from whence the "bid" came. The comparatively small staff was fast in the vast mob of cheering and yelling factions, yet withal it had the time of its life. The party was a grand opening for the staff's social season, for a banquet of the editors' association is scheduled to follow in the near future.

They take off their hats to the three peepiest advisors in the B. H. S. and to the two liveliest classes that really know how to "put over" a successful party. We offer them our grateful thanks and we challenge any other classes to give us as good or better a time than we had at the Junior-Sophomore party.

Miss Spink: "Viola, tell me something about Cromwell's brain."
Viola: "It is said to have weighed 80 pounds."

NEWS FOR THE ALMA MATER

Astrid Olson, '22, is teaching at the Perry Lake school. Astrid says that teaching is a very fascinating bit of work.

BRAINLESS BITS

Miss Rickard (to Mr. Cobb): "Will you come to the front of the room and let us sing for you?"

Mr. Cobb (after listening to "Little Mother of Mine"): "Do you know it—I think you can sing better than I can."

Ancient History Teacher (to the class): "Where did the Athenian citizen spend at least two days of the week?"

John K. (in loud voice): "In the barber shop."

JOY TO COME TO FRESHMEN

This is but a few lines to inform little Freshmen of the Joys Yet to Come. One is Hamlet. Now, Hamlet is as inseparable with a Senior Year as Jerry is with bluffing or bright and shining faces with pupils. What would a Senior year be without Hamlet? The answer comes with over-whelming accuracy, "Nothing!"

A big surprise is waiting for you in Hamlet for who has not heard this little bit of information, "Something is rotten in the state of Denmark," and how many know that it flowed from the eloquent pen of Shakespeare? I, for one, was astonished, for the first time I read it was in a funny-paper about the "Captain and the Kids." Another specimen is "Frailty, thy name is woman." The "woman" in that quotation turns my thoughts back to Freshmen days. In an English I class, the instructor and one of the pupils had a discussion on the proper spelling of women. The pupil maintained that the correct way was "wimmin." Wonder if time has changed ideas. Returning to quotations, it certainly seems strange that Hamlet in his supposed madness, does not refer to Ophelia as a beautiful dumbbell. (Or would the proper word be dumbdora?) The quotation of "So I have heard and do in part believe" will always bring back sweet recollections of Miss Oertling's English III classes.

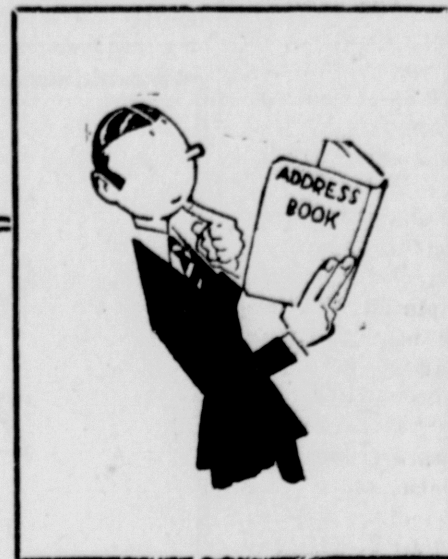

But there is one thing that never will be forgotten, and that is the awful time we had in memorizing "To be or not to be." (Some thoughts for a Senior huh?) What a time we had in struggling through fourteen lines and then to have the exalted thought of a lesson well-learned, smashed by the teacher, who in accents calm and stern, spoke these fatal words, "You are to learn down to where Ophelia comes in." That was the time when the Freshies and lower classmen stared astonished at wood-faced Seniors who gazed off into oblivion with their lips noiselessly moving. Usually a wild look appeared in the eyes of the Senior, his arms were flung up in a gesture of despair, his hair stood on end—only because he could not remember whether "the pangs of disprised love" came before "the insolence of office."

Miss Oldenburg: "Bernard, what kind of a pronoun is quisquam?"
Bernard: "I don't know."

Miss Oldenburg: "Oh, yes, you do. We had eight kinds of pronouns last year."

Bernard: "It's one of the eight."

BIOLOGY—5TH PERIOD

How many classes have a class comedian? We have and she's a peachero!
Some say that days of human sacrifice are past, but they are not. Our star, Elinore Sias, gladly sacrificed one wee drop of blood to be viewed under a microscope by the rest of the class.

Elinore gave a very good demonstration of a cross section between a Virginia Reel and the shimmy while returning a dollar, which she had borrowed to make a circle, to Fred Branting.

Miss Spink: "What are the pulmonary veins?"
William L.: "Well—er—ah, it's an artery."

He could not remember whether "the pangs of disprised love" came before "the insolence of office."

Miss Oldenburg: "Bernard, what kind of a pronoun is quisquam?"

Bernard: "I don't know."

Miss Oldenburg: "Oh, yes, you do. We had eight kinds of pronouns last year."

SPEECHES AT HIGH SCHOOL

The past week has been set apart as Educational week throughout the United States. The High School has observed Education week by speakers who stressed the value of education.

Rev. August Samuelson spoke to us on Wednesday morning. He reminded us of the familiar motto, "you can live without a Ford, but not so well." The same is true of education. Aristotle, the Greek philosopher, declared that there is as much difference between an educated and an uneducated person as between a live man and a dead man.

Students are like the huge, ugly, unyielding blocks of granite in a stone quarry which are waiting for a skillful workman to bring out the hidden worth and beauty. Education takes the place of the workman. Education is not cramming; it is the means of bringing out the qualities that lie within us. Education is needed more than ever before. There is no royal road to Geometry. The rich and poor travel the same path. When the soul life is forgotten, we are failures. Build not only for material success but for a greater life goal. Live up to your best gifts.

Rev. Patterson addressed the student body on Thursday morning. He advised us not to crowd all our pleasure into our schooldays, to be loyal to our school, and to get acquainted with some older person of good character who could guide us from experience.

A man is more than body and mind; he has a soul. When the mind can't grasp all it ought to, we call it illiteracy, but the soul illiterate is still worse. The body is always taken care of because if we went too long without eating we'd starve; the soul should have the same consideration as the body. We must look out for the soul life; remember that we have a living soul which will never perish. Rev. Patterson pleaded for the soul and soul culture, saying that it is dangerous to be one-sided—to have a brilliant mind but to be without morals.

In closing, Rev. Patterson stated that we should strive toward education, and make use of our gifts for the aid and betterment of mankind.

Ecoutez! Audacious Frosh

(This—a didactic satire on that class whose unheard of boldness has aroused the ire of the "Its.")

After a thorough investigation as to the source of the extremely brilliant, informal essay penned by an adroit Freshman, the worldly-wise Seniors according to time-honored custom give credit where credit is due.

The chairman of our research bureau gave the following report on the investigation:

Amongst the vast multitude of Frosh that inhabit the side nearest the rising sun in the assembly, there was but one outstanding character, the president, whose countenance bore such an ingratiating smile that it endeared him to the soft and gentle hearts of the members of the committee. Possessing a rather bashful nature and being unable to comprehend the interrogations put to him or interpret them in the right manner, the committee turned their energies to seek another field which would perhaps yield them more fruit.

Looking over the sea of heads, that one possessed by Jimmy Tinklepaugh, a Freshman in his second year, gave us some hope of encouragement. Following up our new line of attack (drawn on by his tantalizing grin) we gathered the surprising information that we had been Freshmen once upon a time and that there being nothing new under the sun, a Freshman then, would correspond to a freshman now. (Get it straight.)

After digesting his pearly words of wisdom and after a final general survey of the awe-stricken Frosh we drew the following conclusions—

But wait, dear reader, we will not bore you with the time worn truths, 'twould only make the Freshmen sad. Of course, the research committee couldn't help but come to the same consensus of opinion that countless generations before have had—you know the facts as well as we. We graciously grant the Freshies to the privilege to have their little fling. But beware! Let them remain in bounds. Thus—let the matter rest.

LAST ROSE OF SUMMER

Or A Change of Weather Occurs in The City of Brainerd

Just as the inhabitants of Brainerd were resting their eyes from seeing scribbles on the sidewalks, blocked traffic, and streaks of colored lightning fly past, just when shrieks of "Here is the arrow!" and "We've lost the trail!" had ceased to reverberate in their ears, unpleasant memories were brought back at the sight of a lengthy column of live creatures winding its way down Oak street. Why the change? Why the recurrence of former happenings? "Old Man Winter" stopped bombarding us with snow from his pet aeroplane, "The North Wind," long enough to permit Miss Jorandy's gym classes to have one or two more hikes.

Who, What and Where

Save those snap-shots and other pictures concerning the high school and the students or faculty for the 1925 annual. We need them.

Reserve either the 19th or the 20th or the 21st day of the new year for the Juniors. Why? Wait until further announcements. This column deals with only Who, What & Where stuff. Mr. Why will have to write a special article if he wants to make any announcements in this paper.

Due to the many funny and also serious happenings around school lately, the need of a special feature editor became apparent and upon Miss Tornstrom's suggestion Irma Brackner was added to the Brainonian staff.

Another six weeks have come and gone and again the fatal report cards have made their appearance. We hate to spoil your Thanksgiving vacation, but it might be well to be remembered that the end of the next six weeks will be the end of the first semester also. Watch your step and above all, discard that chewing gum!

What was that about a Thanksgiving vacation? Oh, yes, there ain't a goin' to be no school anymore from Wednesday afternoon until Monday morning following the eventful turkey. Let's enjoy the vacation and then come back with renewed vigor and enthusiasm for studying.

Too much valuable material for enacting a good play is going to waste among the student-body. Watch the next issues for announcements in re the coming Brainonian benefit play, featuring an all-star cast of amateur but would-be professional players.

Juel P.: "Bunyon enlisted in the army at 20 years of age."

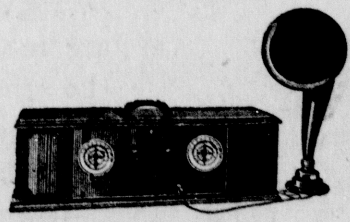

Alfreda Z.: "He did not. He was married then."

Kent W.: "Well, that's the same thing."

Miss Spink (in physiology): "Where are the nerves located?"

Bright Student: "From the brain to the toes."

If a few of the Sophomores and Juniors ever missed a good time in their lives, they missed one last Friday when they did not come to the Sophomore-Junior party.

The party was a success from beginning to end. As they entered the "gym" they were given a small piece of ribbon the color of which decided which city they were to represent during the evening. The four leading cities of Minnesota, Brainerd, St. Cloud, Crosby and Little Falls, took part in the Olympic games of nineteen twenty-four. The yell leader for Brainerd was John Fisher, for St. Cloud was Edna Turner, for Little Falls was Gladys Holvick, and for Crosby was Martius Seeger. These four took those wearing the blue, green, red and yellow, respectively, to their own corner of the "gym."

Then came the races. Contestants were put up by each city for the ten or twelve races and while these were bringing glory to their city the others gave original yells until they were so hoarse they could hardly talk. Finally it was decided by the judges that St. Cloud had won.

When the bell rang, everyone knew what it was for, and it was not long before they were all in the sewing room eating sandwiches, pickles and pie a la mode. When this was finished, "Goodbyes" were said and wearily but happily they plodded home under the stars.

Brainonian Staff Appreciates Invitation

The Brainonian staff most joyously accepted the invitation to attend the Junior and Sophomore party. Especially are they grateful to the Sophs from whence the "bid" came. The comparatively small staff was fast in the vast mob of cheering and yelling factions, yet withal it had the time of its life. The party was a grand opening for the staff's social season, for a banquet of the editors' association is scheduled to follow in the near future.

They take off their hats to the three peepiest advisors in the B. H. S. and to the two liveliest classes that really know how to "put over" a successful party. We offer them our grateful thanks and we challenge any other classes to give us as good or better a time than we had at the Junior-Sophomore party.

Miss Spink: "Viola, tell me something about Cromwell's brain."

Viola: "It is said to have weighed 80 pounds."

DEERWOOD SANATORIUM RADIO GREAT SUCCESS

Radio Set Furnished to Patients at Institution by Citizens of Crow Wing and Aitkin Counties

"SHUT-INS" HIGHLY PLEASED

First Station Received Was the Old Reliable Pioneer KDKA of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The radio set that was furnished to the patients at the Deerwood sanatorium through the kindness and generosity of the citizens of Crow Wing and Aitkin counties, has been installed and is operating very satisfactorily and being intensely enjoyed.

The machine is an Atwater-Kent of five tubes, two stages of radio and two stages of audio frequency amplification. Each patient is supplied with a pair of ear phones with rubber ear cushions and a plug-in at the bedside. The machine is tuned by some member of the staff or by some ambulant patient.

The first station to be received was from Pittsburgh, station KDKA, the pioneer in the broadcasting field, but many others have been received and enjoyed since. All types of entertainments, concerts and church services have been received.

Church was much enjoyed on Sunday it being the first opportunity for some to hear a complete service for a long time. We wish that all who had a hand in this wonderful donation could see the expressions of satisfaction and delight on the faces of those enjoying it, and they would soon realize that they had provided something that had brought much pleasure and joy to the hearts of those less fortunate in the matter of good health.

Existing Conditions

It is estimated there are 1,000,000 diabetics in the nation, and the condition is steadily increasing. Of the 22,000,000 school children in the nation, 16,500,000 are suffering from physical defects! Nearly half the nation is subnormal according to Secretary Weeks, resulting in an economic loss in excess of $1,500,000,000 annually! The annual drug bill for the nation exceeds $500,000,000! Constipation is so universal that it may be looked upon as the normal condition of civilized man! Defective teeth are so universal that that condition too may be looked upon as the normal condition of civilized man! What is responsible for these conditions affecting practically every civilized being? Surely and only a universal cause. The denatured food of civilization is at the root of it all. What shall we do to be saved? Obey the natural law—obey or perish.

DON'T BE STAMPEDED When Buying a Washer

It will pay you to thoroughly consider the many real and time-tried advantages of the "EASY" Vacuum Electric Washer before you decide on any electric washing machine.

The EASY Vacuum Electric WASHER

HERE ARE A FEW FACTS

About Washing Speeds and Washer Capacity

Soap suds and water should be gently forced through the meshes of fine garments. If clothes are washed too quickly frictional wear or your washing will be the result—indicated by an undue amount of lint in the bottom of the washer. Clothes cost more than the few minutes required to wash them properly.

The "EASY" uses air pressure and suction to gently, yet positively impel the warm soapy mixture through the meshes of your treasured possessions. Gently, in far less time and better than by human hands, your clothes are washed by the three nickle-plated cups of the "EASY." Carefully conducted tests have proven conclusively that clothes last longer when washed the "EASY" way than if cleansed by hand on the washboard or by any other washing machine principle.

AND YET

The "EASY" will wash more clothes, cleaner and without wear or tear, than any other machine. This is due to its large tank capacity. Ten single sheets or the equivalent in other clothes properly washed without effort. Isn't this exclusive "EASY" feature worth investigating?

OTHER ADVANTAGES

SOLID SHEET COPPER TANK, entirely open at the top, and, therefore, "as easy to clean as a dishpan."

Largest Capacity for Small Floor Space Occupied No Heavy Parts to Lift Gear Driven

Like the finest automobile the "EASY" is gear driven, all machinery completely enclosed and running in a bath of oil—no belts to stretch and give trouble—no adjustments to make. Thousands of women own "EASY" washers in this district. They suggest that by all means you arrange for a demonstration of all that the "EASY" will do for you before making your decision to buy any washing machine.

DEERWOOD SANATORIUM RADIO GREAT SUCCESS

Radio Set Furnished to Patients at Institution by Citizens of Crow Wing and Aitkin Counties

"SHUT-INS" HIGHLY PLEASED

First Station Received Was the Old Reliable Pioneer KDKA of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The radio set that was furnished to the patients at the Deerwood sanatorium through the kindness and generosity of the citizens of Crow Wing and Aitkin counties, has been installed and is operating very satisfactorily and being intensely enjoyed.

The machine is an Atwater-Kent of five tubes, two stages of radio and two stages of audio frequency amplification. Each patient is supplied with a pair of ear phones with rubber ear cushions and a plug-in at the bedside. The machine is tuned by some member of the staff or by some ambulant patient.

The first station to be received was from Pittsburgh, station KDKA, the pioneer in the broadcasting field, but many others have been received and enjoyed since. All types of entertainments, concerts and church services have been received.

Church was much enjoyed on Sunday it being the first opportunity for some to hear a complete service for a long time. We wish that all who had a hand in this wonderful donation could see the expressions of satisfaction and delight on the faces of those enjoying it, and they would soon realize that they had provided something that had brought much pleasure and joy to the hearts of those less fortunate in the matter of good health.

Existing Conditions

It is estimated there are 1,000,000 diabetics in the nation, and the condition is steadily increasing. Of the 22,000,000 school children in the nation, 16,500,000 are suffering from physical defects! Nearly half the nation is subnormal according to Secretary Weeks, resulting in an economic loss in excess of $1,500,000,000 annually! The annual drug bill for the nation exceeds $500,000,000! Constipation is so universal that it may be looked upon as the normal condition of civilized man! Defective teeth are so universal that that condition too may be looked upon as the normal condition of civilized man! What is responsible for these conditions affecting practically every civilized being? Surely and only a universal cause. The degenerated food of civilization is at the root of it all. What shall we do to be saved? Obey the natural law—obey or perish.

DON'T BE STAMPEDED When Buying a Washer

It will pay you to thoroughly consider the many real and time-tried advantages of the "EASY" Vacuum Electric Washer before you decide on any electric washing machine.

The EASY Vacuum Electric WASHER

HERE ARE A FEW FACTS

About Washing Speeds and Washer Capacity

Soap suds and water should be gently forced through the meshes of fine garments. If clothes are washed too quickly frictional wear or your washing will be the result—indicated by an undue amount of lint in the bottom of the washer. Clothes cost more than the few minutes required to wash them properly.

The "EASY" uses air pressure and suction to gently, yet positively impel the warm soapy mixture through the meshes of your treasured possessions. Gently, in far less time and better than by human hands, your clothes are washed by the three nicked plated cups of the "EASY." Carefully conducted tests have proven conclusively that clothes last longer when washed the "EASY" way than if cleansed by hand on the washboard or by any other washing machine principle.

AND YET—The "EASY" will wash more clothes, cleaner and without wear or tear, than any other machine. This is due to its large tank capacity. Ten single sheets or the equivalent in other clothes properly washed without effort. Isn't this exclusive "EASY" feature worth investigating?

EASTERN TEAMS BELOW 1923 STANDARD

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Nov. 25.—Some complaint has been voiced in the east that the class of 1924 football was inferior to the brand played in 1923 and that while there were a large number of fine teams last year there were only a few good teams turned out this year.

From an eastern viewpoint this may be correct. It is a fact that there were a number of great teams running the eastern gridiron in 1923 and that there wasn't one outstanding team developed this year that could be held out as a worthy representative in real-inter-sectional competition.

Princeton developed late in the season and it was a powerful team if you are willing to admit that a great team has to be great in only the two last games of the season and can lose or make a poor showing in all the early games. At Yale, Harvard and Princeton they train their teams on the theory that games before the "Big Three" games are only games to get their teams ready for those "Big Three" games.

That idea does not prevail elsewhere. In the western conference, the Pacific Coast conference, the southern conference, the Missouri Valley, Rocky Mountain, Southwest, Midwest and Northwest conferences, the championship team is the team that finishes with the best percentage in games won and lost with conference rivals.

There is no conference of any kind in the east, however, and that may be one of the reasons why football in other sections of the country is advancing so much more than it is in the east. This result in general confusion at the end of each season with the filing of a half dozen claims for the sectional championship and with no way possible to judge the claims to the satisfaction of anyone.

If the middlewest were to ask the east to pick its best team to meet the best team in the middlewest the snow would be two feet on the gridiron before the east could pick its best team.

They don't know in the east what team is the best team. Perhaps Princeton would have been picked after the Harvard game, but Dartmouth, Pennsylvania, Rutgers and Yale would have howled their heads off.

FULTON INFORMED TOMMY RYAN HE WAS TO DO FLOP

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 25.—Tommy Ryan, former middleweight champion, told a reporter he knew 48 hours before last Monday's fight that Fred Fulton did not intend to win.

Ryan, who will be a witness at the trial of Fulton, Tony Fuente and their managers, Wednesday, says the plasterer got $6,000 for losing.

"I went to Fulton's Culver City hotel room Saturday afternoon previous," said Ryan. "I took one look at him and I knew that he was not in condition to fight. I asked him why he had made the trip all the way to the coast to fight a rugged young heavyweight and why he was in such poor shape. He replied that he was not going to win but that he had been guaranteed $6,000 for his appearance. I am sure Fulton made this remark to many other persons and that it was in all probability common knowledge that the fight was not to be on the square.

"I asked him if he thought he could beat Fuente and he replied that he felt he could if he wanted to, but that he had not trained at all and had agreed not to win. Knowing what I did I lost all interest in the match. When one of my friends called at my Culver City home and asked me to go over to the arena I told him I would not walk across the street to see the fight."

District Attorney's Chief Deputy Fitts has six surprise witnesses alleged advised by Fulton 15 minutes before entering the ring not to bet on him because he was going to lay down. Total witnesses over 50, many of international sporting note.—St. Paul Daily News.

Penn Captain Is Speaker of Football; Uncanny Catcher

Philadelphia, Nov. 25.—The Tris Speaker of football.

That is what they call Capt. Rae McGraw of the University of Pennsylvania team.

In baseball Speaker gained fame by playing the shortest center field ever attempted by a big leaguer.

Fleet of foot, an uncanny judge of fly balls, Speaker is able to play the outfield a bit differently than any other player in the history of the game.

Fandom would shudder at the closeness with which Speaker played to the infield with some hard hitter at the bat. Yet for years and years no player ever succeeded in hitting a ball over Speaker's head.

Playing in close had many advantages. It enabled Speaker to catch short fly balls that would have been base hits with any one else, also makes it possible for him to handle ground balls more quickly, thereby holding the advancement of base runners to the minimum.

Capt. McGraw of Pennsylvania pulls the Speaker stuff. He plays close up to his line so as to be in a position to help the defense.

When a punt is the play he goes back a much shorter distance than most punters, banking on his speed and unerring accuracy in handling the ball. Incidentally he prefers to catch punts over his shoulders, which enables him to describe a wide arc and keep going at full speed rather than starting from a dead stop.

It's rather a unique idea that has proved a success with McGraw.

while working as a bartender.

The suit was filed by Mrs. Mary Alexander against Mose Barnett, proprietor of a Minneapolis saloon, and Jack Davenport, said to be a Minneapolis underworld character.

Alexander died when he was 43, the complaint charges, but he should have lived 25 years longer according to mortality tables cited.

He had been giving his wife $100 a month so Mrs. Alexander asks judgment for $31,000, the amount she would have received during the next 25 years.

According to the complaint, Alexander was temporarily out of work a year ago, and took a job as bartender in Barnett's saloon.

There he acquired a craving for liquor, it is charged, and died after a short time. The verdict of the

Hennepin county deputy coroner, who performed an autopsy on the body was "suicide by poisoning, with acute alcoholism as a contributing factor."

Mountain Pluck

(By United Press)

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Kenneth Hanna, ten year old resident of Au Sable Forks, is one of the pluckiest lads in the Adirondacks. He recently rode his bicycle a considerable distance to the office of a physician, after having suffered a fractured arm. The accident happened as the boy was attempting to vault a brook and the pole broke, Hanna falling heavily into the rocky bed of the stream.

EASTERN TEAMS BELOW 1923 STANDARD

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Nov. 25.—Some complaint has been voiced in the east that the class of 1924 football was inferior to the brand played in 1923 and that while there were a large number of fine teams last year there were only a few good teams turned out this year.

From an eastern viewpoint this may be correct. It is a fact that there were a number of great teams running the eastern gridiron in 1923 and that there wasn't one outstanding team developed this year that could be held out as a worthy representative in real-inter-sectional competition.

Princeton developed late in the season and it was a powerful team if you are willing to admit that a great team has to be great in only the two last games of the season and can lose or make a poor showing in all the early games. At Yale, Harvard and Princeton they train their teams on the theory that games before the "Big Three" games are only games to get their teams ready for those "Big Three" games.

That idea does not prevail elsewhere. In the western conference, the Pacific Coast conference, the southern conference, the Missouri Valley, Rocky Mountain, Southwest, Midwest and Northwest conferences, the championship team is the team that finishes with the best percentage in games won and lost with conference rivals.

There is no conference of any kind in the east, however, and that may be one of the reasons why football in other sections of the country is advancing so much more than it is in the east. This result in general confusion at the end of each season with the filing of a half dozen claims for the sectional championship and with no way possible to judge the claims to the satisfaction of anyone.

If the middlewest were to ask the east to pick its best team to meet the best team in the middlewest the snow would be two feet on the gridiron before the east could pick its best team.

They don't know in the east what team is the best team. Perhaps Princeton would have been picked after the Harvard game, but Dartmouth, Pennsylvania, Rutgers and Yale would have howled their heads off.

FULTON INFORMED
TOMMY RYAN HE WAS TO DO FLOP

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 25.—Tommy Ryan, former middleweight champion, told a reporter he knew 48 hours before last Monday's fight that Fred Fulton did not intend to win.

Ryan, who will be a witness at the trial of Fulton, Tony Fuentente and their managers, Wednesday, says the plasterer got $6,000 for losing.

"I went to Fulton's Culver City hotel room Saturday afternoon previous," said Ryan. "I took one look at him and I knew that he was not in condition to fight. I asked him why he had made the trip all the way to the coast to fight a rugged young heavyweight and why he was in such poor shape. He replied that he was not going to win but that he had been guaranteed $6,000 for his appearance. I am sure Fulton made this remark to many other persons and that it was in all probability common knowledge that the fight was not to be on the square."

"I asked him if he thought he could beat Fuentente and he replied that he felt he could if he wanted to, but that he had not trained at all and had agreed not to win. Knowing what I did I lost all interest in the match. When one of my friends called at my Culver City home and asked me to go over to the arena I told him I would not walk across the street to see the fight."

District Attorney's Chief Deputy Pitts has six surprise witnesses alleged advised by Fulton 15 minutes before entering the ring not to bet on him because he was going to lay down. Total witnesses over 50, many of international sporting note.—St. Paul Daily News.

Penn Captain Is
Speaker of Football;
Uncanny Catcher

Philadelphia, Nov. 25.—The Tris Speaker of football.

That is what they call Capt. Rae McGraw of the University of Pennsylvania team.

In baseball Speaker gained fame by playing the shortest center field ever attempted by a big leaguer.

Fleet of foot, an uncanny judge of fly balls, Speaker is able to play the outfield a bit differently than any other player in the history of the game.

Fandom would shudder at the closeness with which Speaker played to the infield with some hard hitter at the bat. Yet for years and years no player ever succeeded in hitting a ball over Speaker's head.

Playing in close had many advantages. It enabled Speaker to catch short fly balls that would have been base hits with any one else, also makes it possible for him to handle ground balls more quickly, thereby holding the advancement of base runners to the minimum.

Capt. McGraw of Pennsylvania pulls the Speaker stuff. He plays close up to his line so as to be in a position to help the defense.

When a punt is the play he goes back a much shorter distance than most punters, banking on his speed and unerring accuracy in handling the ball. Incidentally he prefers to catch punts over his shoulders, which enables him to describe a wide arc and keep going at full speed rather than starting from a dead stop.

It's rather a unique idea that has proved a success with McGraw.
